Why Generative AI is the BIG DEAL?

Generative AI's impact on productivity could add trillions of dollars in value to the global economy.

Generative AI could add the equivalent of $2.6 trillion to $4.4 trillion annually, the United Kingdom's entire GDP in 2021 was $3.1 trillion!

About 75 percent of the value that generative AI use cases could deliver falls across four areas: Customer operations, marketing and sales, software engineering, and R&D.

Generative AI's ability to support interactions with customers, generate creative content for marketing and sales, and draft computer code based on natural-language prompts, are a game changer.

Generative AI will have a significant impact across all industry sectors. Banking, high-tech, and life sciences are among the industries that could see the biggest impact as a percentage of their revenues from generative AI.

Across the banking industry, for example, the technology could deliver value equal to an additional $200 billion to $340 billion annually if the use cases were fully implemented.

In retail and consumer packaged goods, the potential impact is also significant at $400 billion to $660 billion a year.

Generative AI has the potential to change the anatomy of work, augmenting the capabilities of individual workers by automating some of their individual activities.

Current generative AI and other technologies have the potential to automate work activities that absorb 60 to 70 percent of employees' time today.
